Nola's Favorite Things

I was born and raised just outside Charleston in Hollywood, SC, a small quaint town where we grazed cattle and chickens and grew our own food. I remember taking weekend trips to downtown Charleston with my mother and sister, and strolling down King Street and shopping our favorite stores. An old record store on King Street was a must-stop to purchase our favorite vinyl and cassette tapes, and of course Market Street where we indulged in sweet treats and trinkets from local artists in the market. I also enjoy visiting museums and art galleries in Charleston and just relaxing and people watching at Waterfront Park or anywhere there's a bench. I love the culture, the food and the humidity during the long summers, which is why I'll always call Charleston home.
